The Society for Molecular Biology and Evolution is an international society that exists to provide facilities for association and communication among molecular evolutionists. All individuals who are actively interested in any field of molecular evolutionary biology are eligible for active membership in the Society. The Society sponsors an annual scientific meeting, which will take place in 1994 from June 15 through June 19 at the University of Georgia. Membership includes a subscription to Molecular Biology and Evolution, and members pay a lower registration fee than do non-members for participation in the annual meeting.

Applications for membership should be directed to The University of Chicago Press, Journals Division, P.O. Box 37005, Chicago, IL 60637, using the form that is printed at the back of this issue. Society membership includes a subscription to Molecular Biology and Evolution. Joint heads of household who both qualify for an individual membership may choose a family membership, which entitles each to be listed as a member and to vote and which entitles the household to receive a single subscription to Molecular Biology and Evolution.

Subscription Rates Annual membership in the Society for Molecular Biology and Evolution includes a subscription to Molecular Biology and Evolution. All subscriptions are on a calendar year basis and start with the January issue. Individuals—United States, $58.00; Canada, $71.06; other countries, $67.00. Students (copy of student ID must accompany subscription request)—United States, $45.00; Canada, $57.15; other countries, $54.00. Family (family rates are for individuals only and include one subscription and two Society of Molecular Biology and Evolution voting rights)—United States, $68.00; Canada, $81.76; other countries, $77.00. Institutions—United States, $330.00; Canada, $362.10; other countries, $339.00. All rates for Canada include 7% GST; all Canada and other country rates include $9.00 postage.

Single copies of back volumes are available in limited quantities: institutions, $55.00; individuals, $9.65. Subscription agent for Japan: Kinokuniya Company, Ltd. Individuals have the option to order directly from the University of Chicago Press. Correspondence regarding change of address, missing issues, and other noneditorial matters should be addressed to The University of Chicago Press, Journals Division, P.O. Box 37005, Chicago, IL 60637; E-mail: subscriptions@journals.uchicago.edu.

Editorial Correspondence Molecular Biology and Evolution, Editorial Office, Biology Department, Hutchison Hall, River Campus, University of Rochester, Rochester, NY 14627.

Submission of Articles Publication in Molecular Biology and Evolution is open to members and nonmembers alike, and acceptance of papers for publication after editorial review is decided solely on the basis of merit and suitability.

Send one original article and two high-quality copies of the manuscript to the editorial office listed above. Proposals for review articles and book reviews must be discussed with the Editor prior to submission.

Authors may also send manuscripts of original research articles only directly to Associate Editors, whose addresses are given on the inside back cover of this issue. When doing so, in order to avoid unnecessary delays, authors should contact the Associate Editor prior to sending the manuscript. At the same time the manuscript is mailed, authors should notify the Editorial Office of the title, authors, contact information for the corresponding author, and the name of the Associate Editor. Regular mail, E-mail, or Fax are acceptable for such notifications. This notification will permit us to ensure that manuscripts are handled promptly and will prevent undue delays in the event that a manuscript is lost in the mail.

In either case, if an author has not received an acknowledgment of the manuscript within 10 days after sending it, the Editorial Office should be contacted immediately.

Preparation of Manuscripts Complete instructions to authors are published in the January issue of each volume. Contributors should consult those instructions for detailed information about the format for manuscripts for Molecular Biology and Evolution. Manuscripts that do not conform to Molecular Biology and Evolution format will be returned to authors without review.

Page Charges There is a charge of $35 per page or fraction of a page for publication in Molecular Biology and Evolution. If the author does not have the financial resources to cover these charges, a waiver of the charges may be requested of the Editor. Articles are selected without regard to an author's ability to pay page charges.

Molecular Biology and Evolution (ISSN 0737-4038) is published bimonthly (every other month), in January, March, May, July, September, and November, for the Society for Molecular Biology and Evolution by the University of Chicago Press, 5720 South Woodlawn Avenue, Chicago, IL 60637-1603.

Copying beyond Fair Use The code on the first page of an article in this journal indicates the copyright owner's consent that copies of the article may be made beyond those permitted by Sections 107 and 108 of the U.S. Copyright Law, provided that the copies are made only for personal or internal use or for the personal or internal use of specific clients and provided that the copier pay the stated per-copy fee through the Copyright Clearance Center, Inc., 27 Congress Street, Salem, MA 01970. To request permission for other kinds of copying, such as copying for general distribution, for advertising or promotional purposes, for creating new collective works, or for resale, kindly write to Permissions Department, The University of Chicago Press, 5801 South Ellis Avenue, Chicago, IL 60637. If no code appears on the first page of an article, permission to reprint may be obtained only from the author.
